Priority Topic of the Week

CSAF Focus Area #3—Enhancing Multi-Domain Command & Control

- CSAF recently released his paper on his final Focus Area—Multi-Domain Command & Control. This final paper completes the series of focus areas that link together the organizational, developmental, and conceptual elements of where the CSAF will focus as your Chief for the remainder of his tenure – joint warfighting excellence.
- Enhancing Multi-Domain Command & Control provides the concept of operations and the technological foundation for better situational awareness, rapid decision making, and employment of the force across multiple domains.
- The Air Force must continue to develop and empower Airmen at all levels: tactical, operational, and strategic, with the skills for joint planning, battle management, and better understanding of how to optimize joint capabilities across multiple domains.
- As a reminder, CSAF Focus Area #1 is “Revitalizing Air Force Squadrons” and CSAF Focus Area #2 is “Strengthening Joint Teams and Leaders.” Read all three of the CSAF’s Focus Area papers here.
- All of the CSAF Focus Area efforts will require significant input from the field. Active participation and ideas from all levels is encouraged and welcomed.
