T 10 - 18: OPERATIONS - NORTHEAST AIR DEFENSE SECTOR (NEADS)

COLUMN B CONSISTING OF:
Records in the Northeast Air Defense Sector (NEADS) 9/11/2001 collection relating to significant NEADS operations, procedures, and policies in regard to the terrorist attacks against the United States on September 11, 2001, and the aftermath of the attacks, including under Operation Noble Eagle (ONE). Most of the records date from September 2001 through December 2001. Textual records exist in both paper and electronic format and in such record types as email messages, power point briefings, reports, and correspondence.

COLUMN C WHICH ARE:
Records include: Power point briefings including twice-daily Battle Staff Coordinator (BSC) briefings during ONE in the several months after 9/11/2001. The BSC briefings were given at shift changes in the NEADS Sector Operations Control Center (SOCC) to summarize the activities of the shift just ending. Daily reports and other information regarding domestic air defense in the several months after the 9/11/2001 terrorist attacks, Sortie counts under Operation Noble Eagle (ONE), Intelligence updates for several months after 9/11/2001, Records relating to antihijacking exercises conducted before 9/11/2001, Transcript of 9/11/2001 NEADS voice recordings, Timeline of 9/11/2001 events, Communications between NEADS and the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States ("9/11 Commission"), and Inventories of the records, including an inventory of copies sent to the 9/11 Commission. Also included are audiovisual records, such as Digital Audio Tapes (DATs) recording the voices (conversations) of NEADS staff in the SOCC on roughly September 3 - 12, 2001, including the conversations on September 11 relating to the events of that day.

COLUMN D DISPOSITION:
Permanent. Transfer paper and electronic textual records when the latest records are 15 years old, after declassification review. Transfer audiovisual records within one year after approval of this schedule, and, prior to transfer, Air Force will perform declassification review to the extent feasible.

Produced by weather reconnaissance units

Retain for 1 month then destroy if no longer needed.
COLUMN B CONSISTING OF:
Original optical patrol worksheets, imagery, and merged magnetic tapes, media of monthly digital data from RSTN observing sites, ionograms (traces/files/tapes), riometer, and radio SIDS charts and ionospheric worksheets and/or Geophysical observations that are interpretable without reference to recording equipment and/or of lasting value.

COLUMN C WHICH ARE:
Produced by space weather units

COLUMN D DISPOSITION:
Send (mail or electronic mail) to the National Geophysical Data Center (NGDC) after 1 month.

NOTES

21 Electronic copies created using electronic mail and word processing: Destroy paper after recordkeeping copy has been created and filed or when no longer needed for revision, dissemination, or reference, whichever is later.

21 Electronic systems that replace temporary hard copy records: Destroy on expiration of the retention period previously approved for the corresponding hard copy records.

21 Electronic systems that supplement temporary hard copy records where the hard copy records are retained to meet recordkeeping requirements: Destroy when the agency determines that the electronic records are superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed for administrative, legal, audit, or other operational purposes.

NOTES
21 Electronic copies created using electronic mail and word processing: Destroy paper after recordkeeping copy has been created and filed or when no longer needed for revision, dissemination, or reference, whichever is later.

21 Electronic systems that replace temporary hard copy records: Destroy on expiration of the retention period previously approved for the corresponding hard copy records.

21 Electronic systems that supplement temporary hard copy records where the hard copy records are retained to meet recordkeeping requirements: Destroy when the agency determines that the electronic records are superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed for administrative, legal, audit, or other operational purposes.

19 For records related to hazardous materials/environmental protection, use Table 32-1, Rule 17. For records related to foreign military sales (FMS) cases, use Table 16-1, Rule 7.

21 Electronic copies created using electronic mail and word processing: Destroy paper after recordkeeping copy has been created and filed or when no longer needed for revision, dissemination, or reference, whichever is later.

21 Electronic systems that replace temporary hard copy records: Destroy on expiration of the retention period previously approved for the corresponding hard copy records.

21 Electronic systems that supplement temporary hard copy records where the hard copy records are retained to meet recordkeeping requirements: Destroy when the agency determines that the electronic records are superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed for administrative, legal, audit, or other operational purposes.

21. This schedule does not apply to: 1. Administrative grievance files, 2. Adverse action files, 3. Formal and informal equal employment opportunity proceedings, 4. Traditional EEO counseling or other records included in the EEO file when a person chooses to go directly to ADR, or 5. Private party claims or EEOC's involvement with federal sector claims of non-EEOC employees against other federal agencies. These records are covered by other items in GRS 1. This schedule does not apply to ADR records that are produced as part of an agency's primary mission.
Prior to 1989, Air Force medical facilities created Child Advocacy records that were strictly limited to treatment of a dependent child. Any Child Advocacy records (dating prior to 1989 and concerned with the dependent child only) which have not been retired should be retired to the Civilian Personnel Records facility using Standard Form 135 to NPRC. The address is: National Personnel Records Center Annex, 1411 Boulder Boulevard, Valmeyer, IL 62295.

Records covered by the Health Information Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) must be retained at least 6 years after date of creation or the date when they were last in effect, whichever is later. See DoD 6025.18-R, Section C14.10.
NOTES

This item does not apply to the data content or design of individual IT systems. Records relating to specific mission-related systems must be scheduled individually by submission of an SF 115 to NARA.

COLUMN B CONSISTING OF:

Layout maps, plans, drawings, and photographs having historical value, depicting an installation and it installed property (other than records included in comprehensive plans in Table 32-17). (See Note 681.)

COLUMN C WHICH ARE:

At bases/stations

COLUMN D DISPOSITION:

When Air Force is relieved of accountability for a base, installation, or portion thereof, transfer relevant records to the National Archives as permanent. (See Notes 407, 681, and 683)

NOTES

21 Electronic systems that supplement temporary hard copy records where the hard copy records are retained to meet recordkeeping requirements: Destroy when the agency determines that the electronic records are superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed for administrative, legal, audit, or other operational purposes.

40 When real property is returned to a local (CONUS) or foreign (overseas) government, retain records at next higher level of command until it is determined that no claim will be filed against the United States. Duplicate copies of maps, plans, etc., may be furnished to the individual or agency accepting accountability for the property, or to the government agency charged with disposing of the government property. When duplicate copies are not available, records may be made available for reproduction purposes.

68 Records having historical value include significant layout maps (also called site plans) of a base, installation, or portion thereof, and architectural and engineering drawings (including final working drawings and as-built drawings) and related records depicting important structures or property, such as mission-related structures, long-lasting and important structures, buildings reflecting a distinctive architectural style, or a standard design used for multiple Air Force buildings.

68 When records are maintained electronically, every effort will be made to transfer the records to the National Archives in an electronic format consistent with NARA transfer guidance in 36 CFR 1228.270 and other appropriate NARA standards.
