DATE CREATED: 24 / Jan / 2018

DATE MODIFIED: 24 / Jan / 2018

FROZEN RECORD: No

CURRENT: Yes

DATE APPROVED: 03 / Jan / 2018

COLUMN B CONSISTING OF:

Records in the Northeast Air Defense Sector (NEADS) 9/11/2001 collection relating to significant NEADS operations, procedures, and policies in regard to the terrorist attacks against the United States on September 11, 2001, and the aftermath of the attacks, including under Operation Noble Eagle (ONE). Most of the records date from September 2001 through December 2001. Textual records exist in both paper and electronic format and in such record types as email messages, power point briefings, reports, and correspondence.

COLUMN C WHICH ARE:

Records include: Power point briefings including twice-daily Battle Staff Coordinator (BSC) briefings during ONE in the several months after 9/11/2001. The BSC briefings were given at shift changes in the NEADS Sector Operations Control Center (SOCC) to summarize the activities of the shift just ending. Daily reports and other information regarding domestic air defense in the several months after the 9/11/2001 terrorist attacks, Sortie counts under Operation Noble Eagle (ONE), Intelligence updates for several months after 9/11/2001, Records relating to antihijacking exercises conducted before 9/11/2001, Transcript of 9/11/2001 NEADS voice recordings, Timeline of 9/11/2001 events, Communications between NEADS and the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States ("9/11 Commission"), and Inventories of the records, including an inventory of copies sent to the 9/11 Commission. Also included are audiovisual records, such as Digital Audio Tapes (DATs) recording the voices (conversations) of NEADS staff in the SOCC on roughly September 3 - 12, 2001, including the conversations on September 11 relating to the events of that day.

COLUMN D DISPOSITION:

Permanent. Transfer paper and electronic textual records when the latest records are 15 years old, after declassification review. Transfer audiovisual records within one year after approval of this schedule, and, prior to transfer, Air Force will perform declassification review to the extent feasible.

NOTES

- 21 Electronic systems that supplement temporary hard copy records where the hard copy records are retained to meet recordkeeping requirements: Destroy when the agency determines that the electronic records are superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed for administrative, legal, audit, or other operational purposes.
- 40 When real property is returned to a local (CONUS) or foreign (overseas) government, retain records at next higher level of command until it is determined that no claim will be filed against the United States. Duplicate copies of maps, plans, etc., may be furnished to the individual or agency accepting accountability for the property, or to the government agency charged with disposing of the government property. When duplicate copies are not available, records may be made available for reproduction purposes.
- 68 Records having historical value include significant layout maps (also called site plans) of a base, installation, or portion thereof, and architectural and engineering drawings (including final working drawings and as-built drawings) and related records depicting important structures or property, such as mission-related structures, long-lasting and important structures, buildings reflecting a distinctive architectural style, or a standard design used for multiple Air Force buildings.
- 68 When records are maintained electronically, every effort will be made to transfer the records to the National Archives in an electronic format consistent with NARA transfer guidance in 36 CFR 1228.270 and other appropriate NARA standards.
