Licensure Portability in 50 States and DC

Example State

The state of Example State received an overall green assessment for licensure and portability, indicating the State statutes are most supportive of military families.

Statutory Review

- Reciprocal Licensure Assessment:
 - A military spouse can receive a license (temporary or renewable for at least one year, or permanent) within 30 days according to statutes in their legislation.
- Minimal Paperwork Assessment:
 - A military spouse can receive a license based on an application and initial submission of minimal documentation according to statutes in their legislation. Minimal documentation is defined as documents which do not require submission by a State or Institution.
- Statutory Key Occupation Coverage:
 - These assessments apply to all health-related occupational licenses currently tracked by the Department of the Air Force.
 - These assessments apply to all education-related occupational licenses currently tracked by the Department of the Air Force.
 - These assessments do not apply to the additional occupational licenses of lawyers and architects.

Compact Review

- The following compact(s) have not yet passed: Advanced Practice Registered Nurse compact (APRN), Audiology compact (Audiology), and Licensed Professional Counseling compact (Counseling).
